

The Episcopal Diocese of Florida Hires New Controller

(JACKSONVILLE, FL) Diocesan Treasurer Ben Hill and The Rt. Rev. Samuel Johnson Howard, Bishop of Florida are pleased to announce the appointment of Jorge L. Maysonet as Diocesan Controller. In this role, he will direct all accounting, finances and administration functions for the Diocese and the many ministries it encompasses. Maysonet will formally join the Diocese staff on Monday, October 23, 2017.

Bishop Howard comments, "Jorge Maysonet comes to our Diocesan staff with the skills and abilities that will enable us to make a tremendous move forward in financial oversight and management. I commend our Treasurer, Ben Hill, and members of our Finance and Audit Committees for a successful completion to this important search process."

Maysonet has more than 12 years of experience in this field. He comes to the Diocese from the Catholic Diocese of St. Augustine as Controller in its Finance Department. Prior to that, he also worked in the Finance Department at the Catholic Diocese in Puerto Rico.

"I look forward to sharing my experience in project management and fiscal responsibility with the Episcopal Diocese of Florida. Together, we will build a new department and strong fiscal foundation. A common mission to "Be Transformed" will serve to guide our work together. I am deeply grateful and humbled to have this opportunity," says Maysonet.

Ben Hill shares, "It is time to move the Diocese of Florida to a new level of technology and analytical skills. We will look to Jorge for strong internal controls, analytical skills and communication among our many growing ministries. Jorge is fully bilingual in English and Spanish."

Maysonet has been married for 12 years to Lillian Robles. They have two daughters - Leeann Y. and Loreanis C. Maysonet.
